The Pro Football Hall of Fame is seeking a student for its summer of 2004 Collections Internship in the museum’s Archives and Information Center. The Pro Football Hall of Fame has the preeminent public or private historical collection of American Football in the world. The museum is seeking a student who is interested in pursuing a career with an historical organization and has an interest in collections management. The student intern will be given an introduction into the history of professional football and the internal collections care practices of the museum. The student intern will assist staff in research projects and collections care of both artifacts and archival materials. He or she will have the opportunity to complete a registration project(s) in the collection by the end of the internship.

The successful candidate will be required to work 30-40 hours a week for a continuous 12-week period between May 17 and September 3. The Collections intern is required to have completed or to be working to complete a Bachelor’s Degree in one of the following fields: History, Anthropology, American Studies, Sports Managements, or an equivalent. The museum prefers a student who has experience volunteering or working for an historical organization and is in a graduate program in one of the following fields of study: Museum Studies, Archival Studies, Public History, or an equivalent. The Collections internship is a volunteer internship. Please send a letter of interest and resumé to Jason Aikens, Collections Coordinator, Pro Football Hall of Fame, 2121 George Halas Dr. NW, Canton, OH 44708. Phone: (330) 456-8207. The deadline is May 2, but applications materials will be reviewed immediately.
